

Erasmus+ READ in Europe

"This is the blog of the project titled "Reading in English for Assessment and Dialogue in Europe (READ in Europe)" sponsored by the European Union within Erasmus+ programme for strategic partnership for schools only"

The project addresses secondary students of 14-17 who are studying English as a foreign language. The aim is to develop students' literacy skills with reading, writing and acting out literary pieces of participating cultures. At the same time teachers can share their teaching practices and methodology, too.

Participating Schools

Székelyországban Árvay János Általános Iskola és Gimnázium, Hungary
 Srednja škola Hvar, Croatia
 FBC Santo Tomás de Aquino La Magdalena, Spain
 Burhan Felek Anadolu Lisesi, Turkey
 Liceo Scientifico Pasteur, Italy
 Prizadišio gimnazija, Lithuania

Erasmus+

Erasmus+ logo

A story of 30 years: from Erasmus to Erasmus+

2017 marks 30 years of Erasmus+ the original Erasmus programme began in 1987 as an exchange programme giving higher education students a taste of life and learning abroad. You can read more about the anniversary on the Erasmus+ Commission dedicated website.

Erasmus+ website, including a video in the anniversary thirty years, Erasmus grew and has developed into something much bigger, which is reflected in the address of the programme to create knowledge. Today, Erasmus+ funds thousands of opportunities a year, for students, staff, teachers, apprentices and young people, from career education, training, youth and sport. Projects cover a large range of topics and the programme now extends beyond Europe with initiatives like Transnational Circit Mobility.

Inside this issue:

Culture of Turkey	6
ADAC Accessibility	7
Integration apps	8
New Technology innovation in Spain	10
Lituanijos švietimo įstatymai	11
Sport in Italy	20
Unusually cold weather in Hungary	21

Special points of interest:

- Music
- Sports
- Technology
- Weather
- Cuisine
- Culture